

2019: COLOR & DESIGN TRENDS

In preparation for this year's design book, we explored color and material trends in the fashion industry around the world. Why fashion? Because these trends generally lead the way for other industries, and adopting them gives architects and designers the tools they need to create forward-thinking spaces that support today's work styles.

So what did we find? Current trends are fusing showy metallics with solid colors in a variety of finishes and gloss levels. With that in mind, we designed this year's book to inspire you with full color and material palettes that incorporate our extensive powder coat offering. Named after strong ladies in pop culture and literature, these palettes represent different design personalities and illustrate how powder coat can be used to support unique space types.

Whether you use this book as a guideline or a springboard, we hope it opens up a new world of possibilities. Black, white, silver? Sure. But why not mix it up?

Named after a fierce (yet fictional) queen, this color palette is calm, cool and collected...but don't overlook that flash of glam and that touch of fire inside. Here's a cup of tea, but don't you dare spill it on my sofa.

by mixing different sheen levels.
Combining metallics with a mix of other matte and gloss finishes gives hard surfaces a more approachable, textural feel.
